

POLITICAL ELITES AND POLITICAL RENTS UNDER ELECTORAL AUTHORITARIANISM:
EVIDENCE FROM RUSSIA AND BEYOND

DEPARTMENT OF POLITICS AND IR, MANOR ROAD BUILDING
UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD

APRIL 3RD, 2017

14.00-15.45: First Panel, Discussants: Ben Noble and Saliha Metinsoy

David Szakonyi, George Washington University.
"Pricelings and Political Rents"

Henry Thomson, Nuffield College, University of Oxford.
"Agricultural Rents, Landholding Inequality and Authoritarian Regime Durability".

Jody LaPorte, Blavatnik School of Government, University of Oxford.
"Historical Origins of Post-Soviet Kleptocracy"

Barry Maydom, DPIR, University of Oxford.
"Remittances and Democratisation: The Influence of Migrants' Destinations."

Coffee

16.00-17.45: Second Panel, Discussant: Paul Chaisty

Michael Rochlitz, Ludwig Maximilian University Munich.
"Independent Media and Non-Competitive Elections: Experimental Evidence from Russia"

Katerina Tertytchnaya, DPIR, University of Oxford.
"Shocks, Support and Accountability under Electoral Authoritarianism".

Noah Buckley, Columbia University and Higher School of Economics.
"Calculating Corruption: Political Competition and Bribery under Authoritarianism".

17.45-18.00: Concluding Remarks

*The event is generously supported by the Department of Politics and International Relations, and the Commission for Educational Exchange between the United States of America,
Belgium and Luxembourg*

